

We need stronger, not weaker, standards and enforcement of the FCC. The proposed changes in the rules, scheduled for June 2 vote, will result in much too little and overly controlled news access. While I'm at it, the FCC used to enforce equal access in political speech. We need this enforcement again, not only in political debates but in the arena of so-called "talk show" programs.